One Fort Hunter Liggett road opens, but one remains closed

FORT HUNTER LIGGETT, Calif. – The Nacimiento-Ferguson Road is reopened for traffic, although the green bridge is still undergoing repairs which are scheduled through mid January 2011. The low water crossing next to the bridge is the alternate means of travel. The Del Venturi Road is still closed until water levels recede to a safe level.

Fort Hunter Liggett provides base operations support at four installations enabling world-class Combat Support and Combat Service Support training, while providing for the well-being and security of Soldiers, family members and civilians on post. Fort Hunter Liggett is the largest Army Reserve installation and the eighth largest in the Army. With more than 165,000 acres of unencroached mountains, valleys, rivers, plains and forests it provides ideal maneuver areas for today's training requirements.
